Listening via Home Theatre System

The home theatre system should automatically turn on and off when you turn the TV on and off using the TV remote. Adjust the home theatre volume with the TV remote volume.

If the home theatre system does not work correctly, try the following:

- Make sure that it is turned on.
- On the Home Theatre system remote, press the Input button [1] until the screen on the Home Theatre system says “TV”
- Adjust the volume with the Home Theatre system remote. You may find it desirable to turn down the volume of the TV remote
